

once upon a time

Once upon a time, there is a brilliant man in Germany. He is a world famous German painter, writer and publisher. He was famous for picking the talented young pupils for a chance to give technical crafts skill or train for their extraordinary talent with heart of adventure, even though they were the child of the peasant! Later in his life, he published the 12 volume picture books for children, containing graphic drawings of nature and culture of 19th Century. I, his most trusted assistant helped him to come closer to the each corner of the world. And of course, there was that donkey [donkey's name] with that ugly face. Together, we travelled multiple times around the world for Mr. Bertuch's childbook. Our journey started at home in Germany.
